In April, the Fund generated a return of 0.2%, in line with its objective to deliver a return in excess of the Reserve Bank of New Zealand (RBNZ) Official Cash Rate (OCR) after fees.

Short-dated New Zealand interest rates moved higher over April, as stronger-than-expected inflation data and more hawkish commentary from the RBNZ led markets to price a greater likelihood of future OCR increases. While the RBNZ left the OCR unchanged at 2.25% at the April meeting, it emphasised it remains “vigilant” to broader inflation pressures and stands ready to act if inflation proves more persistent than expected. As a result, financial markets increased expectations for future OCR hikes, with short-term interest rates rising over the month as investors reassessed the outlook for monetary policy. Currently, financial markets are anticipating an increase of over 0.75% to the OCR by the end of 2026.

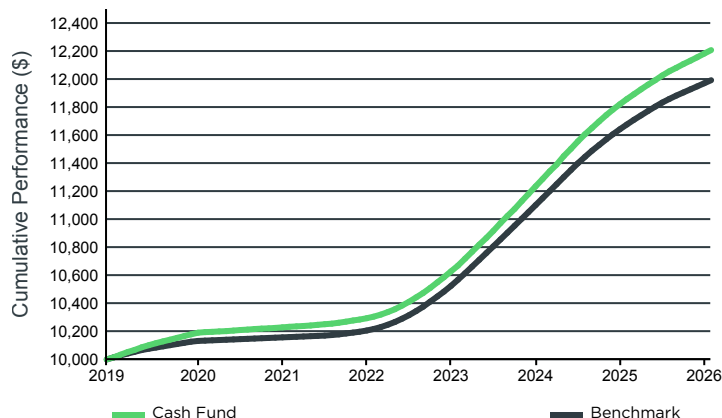

The Fund continues to maintain a low-risk strategy, built on a diversified portfolio of cash, short-dated debt securities and term deposits, with a focus on capital preservation. While the yield of the Fund may vary over time, we believe the portfolio remains well positioned to deliver returns above the OCR after fees.
