The Fund rose 3.8% in March, with strong returns from both share and fixed income markets with the major New Zealand, Australian and global share market indices rising 3.3%, 3.3% and 3.4% respectively. Markets rose in response to strong US growth, expectations for rate cuts and continued investor enthusiasm. The Fund outperformed the mix of markets in which it invests due to good company selection and strong returns from company bonds (fixed income).

During the month the Fund benefited from the share market rally broadening out from technology companies as investors looked for areas of value. Key positive company investments during the month included European banks Virgin Money (+35.2%), Bank of Ireland (+17.3%), and NatWest Group (+16.4%). Virgin Money rose in response to a takeover offer which also led to strong gains in our fixed income investments in the bank. Our oil and gas companies also performed well, with US-based EOG Resources (+11.7%), Australian-based Santos (+9.5%), and European-based Shell (+6.8%). We believe that oil and gas companies are attractively valued with strong cashflows.

The outlook for share markets is supported by resilient growth in the United States and the prospect that falling inflation will allow central banks to reduce interest rates in 2024. Negatives are patchy economic growth outside of the United States and the prospect that increased government issuance and sticky inflation will lead to higher rates for longer. Following the recent market rallies, the valuation of shares has increased with the expected return premium to cash and fixed income relatively low. Investor enthusiasm for shares may lead to further market gains, however, less valuation cushion increases the risk of a pullback if economies or earnings disappoint. On balance we have a slightly lower than average allocation to shares. Whilst in aggregate, valuations of shares and company credit are relatively high, we continue to isolate attractive areas of the market to invest. The Milford team remains active to isolate quality companies with strong management teams and attractive valuations which we believe will deliver attractive medium-term risk adjusted returns.
