The Fund gained 3.3% in June. Globally, share markets rose to end a strong first half of the year, as inflation continued to moderate and economic growth remained resilient. The rally broadened in June, with cyclical sectors more exposed to economic growth (e.g. industrials, consumer discretionary and commodities) outperforming technology and defensive sectors.

The top contributor this month was electrical products distributor Wesco (+30.6%), which serves a diverse range of customers across a wide range of industries. Wesco is a key play on some of our favourite investment themes such as electrification, grid modernisation and renewable energy. Hospital Corporation of America (+15.1%), the largest private hospital operator in the United States, rebounded in June, as patient volumes remained strong and labour costs looked contained. A relatively new addition to the Fund, US auto parts supplier Aptiv (+15.9%), also performed strongly in June as investors rotated into laggards. We think the company is well positioned longer term, as it supplies smart vehicle architecture which enables the shift to Electric Vehicles. Other strong performers included insurance broker Arthur J. Gallagher (+9.9%), artificial intelligence beneficiary Meta (+8.4%) and the market leader in portable storage units, WillScot Mobile Mini (+10.9%).

Negative contributors this month included defensive holdings such as US health insurer Elevance Health (-0.5%) despite attractive valuations and a solid earnings outlook. US semiconductor company Micron Technology (-7.5%) also underperformed, despite releasing better than expected third quarter results, on concerns the recovery in demand and margins may be more prolonged than expected.

Closer to home, relative outperformers included lithium/nickel miner IGO (+6.6%) and mining giant Rio Tinto (+7.2%). Locally, Fisher & Paykel Healthcare (+6.8%) rebounded from a weak May. EBOS (-12.7%) was a drag on performance after losing a major contract with Chemist Warehouse.

Looking ahead, the good news is most global central banks are close to peak or have already completed their interest rate hikes this cycle. Despite the strong rally in share markets, we continue to find compelling opportunities that are aligned with our favourite investment themes.
