The Fund fell 0.6% in August with share markets giving back some of their recent strong gains. The major New Zealand, Australian and global share market indices fell 4.2%, 0.7% and 1.8% respectively. Share markets were negatively impacted by generally weaker economic data in China, Europe and New Zealand. The Fund's return was boosted by the fall in value of the New Zealand dollar (-3.9% versus US dollar) which benefited unhedged offshore investments. The NZ dollar fell in response to relatively poor economic data, falling commodity prices and a large negative trade balance.

Key positive company performers during the month included global insurance brokers Arthur J. Gallagher (+7.6%) and Aon (+4.7%), and healthcare companies Avantor (+5.3%) and Boston Scientific (+4.0%).

Insurance brokers continue to report strong earnings growth, benefiting from rising global insurance premiums. Healthcare companies are viewed as less cyclical and benefit from structural growth of new procedures and ageing demographics. Boston Scientific is a medical device company and is generating good growth from its products, which are used in surgery and treatment for cardiovascular issues. In New Zealand, Contact Energy (+0.7%) outperformed the weak market following a strong result.

The outlook for share markets is supported by resilient growth in the United States and the prospect that falling inflation means central bank rate rises are close to a peak. Negatives are patchy economic growth outside of the United States, relatively high levels of investor enthusiasm, and above average company valuations. Given this backdrop, the strategy of the Fund remains on the cautious side, with higher weights to fixed income than typical. Fixed income provides attractive yields with relatively low levels of risk. Whilst share market valuations are above average, we continue to see areas of value. The Milford team remains active to isolate strong companies which we believe will deliver attractive medium-term, risk-adjusted returns.
