September was a difficult month for markets and the Fund, which fell 4.0%. Share markets fell sharply during the month; New Zealand (-4.3%), Australia (-6.2%) and global (-8.3%). Share markets came under pressure in response to high inflation readings and indications from central banks around the globe that they would continue to act aggressively to control inflation – even if growth is slowing. Higher interest rates and increased investor caution negatively impacted the Fund's fixed income holdings. The Fund's relatively cautious positioning helped offset some of the fall in markets during the month.

Key company performers in the month included New Zealand utility software provider Gentrack (+5.8%) and global pharmaceutical company Bristol Myers Squibb (+5.5%). During the month Gentrack announced the launch of a new modern platform partnering with global leaders AWS and Salesforce. Gentrack also upgraded its revenue guidance for the financial year by approximately 9%. We continue to believe select healthcare companies such as Bristol Myers Squibb provide attractive risk and return prospects given growth prospects more tied to innovation and demographics than the economic cycle.

The short-term outlook for shares remains uncertain with higher inflation and higher interest rates likely to slow economic growth and company earnings prospects. Following falls, share market valuations have improved and offer more attractive prospects and opportunities for active management. Given the uncertain environment the Fund remains more defensively positioned than typical with a lower weight towards shares. The Fund has increased holdings in company bonds (fixed income) which we believe offer attractive risk adjusted returns.
