In December the Fund generated a return of 0.5%. Short-dated NZ dollar bank bills, a reflection of interbank funding levels, ended the month relatively unchanged. As it stands, the market is attaching a significant probability to the RBNZ commencing cuts to the OCR in the first half of 2024 on the back of softening inflation data globally and domestically. This is despite the RBNZ's prior guidance in November of no cuts until 2025. Our expectation is that when compared to recent years, interest rates will remain at relatively elevated levels for some time. This will continue to benefit the Fund in terms of the interest rates into which the Fund can reinvest maturing holdings.

The portfolio management of the Fund remains focused on maintaining its low-risk strategy which is built on a diversified portfolio of cash, short-dated debt securities and term deposits, so as to protect capital. As a reminder, while the yield of the Cash Fund may vary over time, its objective is to deliver a return in excess of the OCR after fees. We expect we will continue to be able to deliver on this objective.
