The Fund returned 0.6% in May, and is now up 5.9% over 1-year. The re-emergence of risks which had receded into the background (notably the US-China trade war and Brexit) and softer economic data has precipitated a drop in investor confidence.

Expectations have risen that central bank monetary policy action will be needed to support economic growth and the market moved to price in an even lower path for interest rates. This supported the Fund's Australasian shares (given a weighting towards income shares) and both its Australasian and global corporate bonds (albeit global bonds underperformed government bonds). The small global share allocation was however a drag on returns as global shares were weak. We modestly increased this exposure in early May but as that was through options, the negative impact was limited.

We remain wary of valuations across parts of the financial markets and are cognisant of late cycle risks which have clearly increased in May. We hold a lower allocation to shares than the long run average but rather than increasing cash we stay invested in corporate bonds, with a focus on lower risk. For now, supportive monetary policy and still reasonable corporate earnings should support returns. Nevertheless, given valuations (e.g. the market is already pricing in significant rate cuts), returns are likely to be lower than in recent months.
